MEMORANDUM FOR: CIA Librarian

SUBJECT: Annual Meeting of The American Association for the Advancement of Science

1. The American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS) will hold its annual meeting in Cleveland, Ohio, from 26-27 December 1963. The AAAS has been granted funds by the National Science Foundation to present a symposium on the sciences in Japan at this meeting.

2. Seventeen (17) speakers from Japan, selected on the basis of their scientific prominence, have been invited, each to describe a field of research in which Japanese scientists have been making significant contributions. The speakers and their topics have been selected by the Science Council of Japan. Each Japanese scientist will prepare a paper of up to 15,000 words and a summary for presentation within 15 minutes. The summary paper is to be presented orally either in Japanese or English. Simultaneous translation from Japanese to English will make it possible for each speaker to use either language, and will facilitate subsequent discussions. The full papers are to be published by the AAAS as a symposium volume similar to Sciences in Communist China (1961). Acquisitions Branch, CIA Library played a major support role in providing publications to the symposium on the Sciences in Communist China.
